

Leadership by Design

AACC John E. Roueche Future Leaders Institute at WDI

January 29-30, 2019 / San Diego, CA | Sheraton San Diego Hotel & Marina

As part of AACC's Leadership Suite, Roueche-FLI at WDI is designed for workforce and economic development and continuing education professionals who want to advance their careers to a higher level of leadership. This 1 ½-day seminar offers participants the opportunity to engage in a national dialogue with experienced community college leaders and experts in workforce training and to develop a network of colleagues from around the country. The program includes practical lessons and scenarios, as well as an opportunity to connect with AACC board and staff executives.

WHAT WILL I LEARN?

- AACC Competencies for Community College Leaders and the real-world illustrations that AACC believes are imperative to assist leaders in progressing along the leadership continuum
- Leadership roles and pathways for the workforce and economic development and continuing education professional
- Ethical decisions for the classroom, conference room, and board room
- Entrepreneurial leadership strategies
- Methods of advocacy with policy and other decision makers at local, state, and federal levels
- Building an effective team through support coalitions
- Connecting workforce and academics to increase student success

SHOULD I ATTEND?

Perhaps you're at the midpoint of your career. Or, maybe you have leadership experience and hope to attain a more senior position. Wherever you fall on the spectrum, the AACC Roueche-FLI can help you reach your goals.

For more information and to register, visit,
<http://www.aaccfuture.com>
or contact aaccleadershipsuite@aacc.nche.edu

